THIRTY-NINTH YEAR, No. 27

COAST NET TOURNAMENT EARLY ROUNDS FEATURED BY SEVERAL UPSETS

Gulfport Youngster Beats New Orleans Star and Falls Before Buffum in Second Round—Bill Lucas Eliminated By Wiggins, Mississippi Entry.

New Orleans players have predominated in early round matches of the In-By-the-Sea tennis tournament, and are favored to win in most of the advanced round matches when play is resumed at the In-By-the-Sea court, Friday morning, July 4th, at nine o'clock.

Four Orleansmen, Bob Rumph, Bill Macassin, Frank Stewart, and Julian Meyers, are expected to be foremost in third round play in men's singles, along with Van Matthews of Mobile and Ed Buffum of Gulfport. Two of these six players are expected to move their way to the finals on Sunday.

The outstanding racket wielders in men's doubles so far have been Rumph and Macassin of New Orleans, Wilson and Melers of New Orleans, Lucas and Buffum of Gulfport, and Leche and Shields of Bay St. Louis. All first round play has been completed in this division, and these teams have finished the second round.

All but four players have been eliminated from women's singles. Anna Koll of New Orleans has swept through all lower round opposition to enter the finals. Others remaining in the running are Bess Weddington of New Orleans, seeded No. 1, who has reached the semi-finals, and Mrs. Clem Weston of Logtown, who will meet Lenora White in the only remaining quarter-final match left to be played.

Among the mixed doubles teams that have weathered early-round competition are several strong and evenly-matched duos. Leche and Weddington, seeded No. 1, Buffum and James of Gulfport, Macassin and Koll of New Orleans, seeded No. 2, and Van Matthews and Scott have stood out in early round play and stand a good chance of reaching the semi-finals.

The first round of women's singles will begin Friday, with only five teams entered.

All preliminary matches will be finished by Saturday night and finals will start Sunday morning. Cups will be awarded to first place winners and runners-up in all events immediately after the tournament is finished on Sunday.

Pairings announced for play starting Friday morning are as follows: Men's singles, third round, Rumph vs. winner of the Hardy-McDonald match; Craig vs. winner of the Porter-Wilson match; Buffum vs. Stewart; Macassin vs. Khayat; Hewes vs. J. Meyers; Leche vs. S. Mills. Pratt vs. M. Smith.

Men's singles, fourth round, will be winner McDonald-Hardy match vs. Rumph and winner of Porter-Wilson vs. Craig; Van Matthews vs. winner, Buffum vs. Stewart; winner Macassin vs. Khayat and winner Hewes vs. J. Meyers; winner Leche vs. Mills and winner Pratt vs. M. Smith.

Men's doubles: Rumph and Macassin vs. Van Allen and Johnson; May-Heiss and Pratt; Janin and Hanahan vs. Bendernagel and Toomer; Mills and Hardy vs. Lucas and Buffum; Hewes and Jackson vs. winner, Van Matthews-Douglas and Stewart-Verges match.

W. O. W. CIRCLE DELEGATES RETURN FROM DEDICATION

The delegation was composed of the following: Mrs. W. O. W. Maurig, Pedro Boudin, Andrew Carver, Henry Betz, Andy Becker, Fred Banderet, Daniel Ziegler and Marcel Telhiard.

It was a great occasion and the ladies report having enjoyed every moment they spent in the "Texas" city, where they were shown every courtesy and attention by the citizens of the town. They had the pleasure of meeting a number of National Camp and Circle officials who were in attendance at the dedication. "The home, a most elegant and spacious building which is to house old circle members and the orphans of deceased members of the organization."

The trip to Sherman and return was made by automobiles, the delegates stating that the roads and highways were in splendid condition, and they did not experience a single mishap during the entire trip.

Announce Engagement

Mr. Seymour Mioton of 225 Boardman avenue announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Miss Mercedes Mioton and Mr. John Phillips, a native of Carrollton, Ga., who is connected with the office of the American Telephone Company at Atlanta, Ga. The marriage will take place early in August in New Orleans. Miss Mioton is well known here and for five years has been with the local telephone exchange, having been awarded her five years service pin recently.

MUSICAL REVUE TO BE GIVEN FOR LOCAL HOSPITAL BENEFIT

A musical revue of dancing and singing will be presented at the Central high school auditorium Friday night, July 11, 8 o'clock, for the benefit of the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital. Mrs. James Sylvester is in charge of the program and a delightful intermission is being planned. The public is not only cordially invited but urged to attend.

OLD AUTO ATTRACTS INTEREST

Hupmobile Made in 1910 Is Operated on Streets Of Bay St. Louis.

Bay St. Louis was treated to the sight of a ghost of the past last week, when among the stream of 1930 Fords, late model Chevrolets, and 16-cylinder Cadillacs there appeared a 1910 model Hupmobile owned by a local resident.

The 20-year-old car, with what was once a gleaming chrome, and with carbide lamps on its sides and in front, with the steering wheel on the right hand side and with a 1921 Mississippi license under the 1920 license, is the property of Horatio Favre, an employee of Harrison's Service Station, who is about three years younger than the car.

Favre bought the car for $5.00 from C. Y. Blaise, who has kept it stored in a shed on his property for the last nine years.

With the aid of a little mechanical knowledge, Favre says that he worked over the motor for a few days, and now has the old car in good running condition. He says that the car can make 35 miles an hour, but that it is rather hard to handle at that speed, and that it gets about 30 miles to a gallon of gas. He also says that the shift is different from the universal shift used now, but that after it is understood it is not hard to work.

St. Margaret's Daughters

The annual meeting of St. Margaret's Daughters was held Wednesday afternoon at St. Joseph's Academy. Many matters of interest to the organization were discussed, especially arrangements for the church fair for Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church which is to be held in the near future. A vote of thanks was extended the American Legion for the generous donation.

College President Here

Rev. Alfred F. Rabe, Society of Mary, president of St. Mary's University of San Antonio, one of the well known Catholic institutions of higher learning, spent the week-end on the Coast as guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Leche of North Beach Boulevard. Rev. Rabe attended the convention of Catholic educational officials in New Orleans last week. He had been on the Coast for a brief visit two years ago. He expressed his delight in the Coast section.

Plan To Attend Meet.

Among the American Legion members from the Bay-Waveland area who plan to attend the annual state convention of the Legion at Greenwood, July 6, 7, 8, are the two delegates from the Clement Bontemps Post, Henry Capdepon and Eddie Prevou, and others planning to go are Herbert Landon and John Miller, both of Waveland. They will make the trip by motor and will carry banners on their cars stating that they are from Bay St. Louis.

MOVE STORE

The Bay Furniture Company has moved its store from its former location to the Manhart building on Railroad avenue and is pleasantly located in the new quarters.

Clermont Harbor Inn Dance

A dance will be given at Clermont Harbor Inn Casino Saturday night, with music by a local jazz orchestra. The public is invited.

SEEN IN 'T. E. FLO- DORA GIRL' AT A. & G.

Marion Davies' newest all-talking picture, "The Florodora Girl," story the Gay Nineties, will be shown at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday of next week.

An imposing cast was selected for this picture, including Lawrence Gray, who played opposite Miss Davies in "Marionette"; Walter Catlett, the stage comedian, recently seen in "Rio Rita"; and "George White's Scandals," Louis J. Bartels, star of "The Show Off"; Sam Hardy, Nance O'Neill, Ika Chase, Vivian Oakland, and Prouty and Claude Allister and a large group of minor players.

The story was written by Gene Markey with additional dialogue by Ralph Spence. Al Basberg and Robert Hopkins. Harry Beaumont directed. Songs heard in the picture include a reprise of many familiar old popular tunes rendered by a chorus. Lawrence Gray sings the theme number called "My Kind of Man" which was written by Herbert Stothart, Clifford Grep and Andy Rice.

Information is that "The Florodora Girl" depicts the adventures and romance of one of the members of the "Florodora Sextette," which was the sensation of twenty years ago. This bevy of beauties has held more romantic interest than any group of chorus girls in the history of the theater. It is said on well substantiated authority that all six of these girls married millionaires.

Old New York Scenes.

The days when "Florodora" was the sensation of Broadway and its sextette of beauties the toast of the town will furnish the picturesque atmosphere of the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which is reported to be replete with old New-Yorkana, including the sidewalk-sweeping costumes, the bustles and tightly-laced waists, the old-fashioned cab and horse cars, a reproduction of an old football game between Yale and Columbia and a host of other details which have long since faded in the face of the modern skyscraper era. Several of the scenes were filmed in technicolor.

AUGUST TACONI DIES IN N. O. HOSPITAL

August Taconi, Jr., 24 years old, a native of Bay St. Louis died at the Charity Hospital in New Orleans Saturday at 10:40 p. m., following an illness of some three weeks. He was taken ill at the home of his father, August Taconi, Sr., of Bay St. Louis, was taken to New Orleans for treatment and was at the hospital for nine days.

The funeral was held from the father's residence at 404 St. John street Monday afternoon, 5 o'clock with interment at Cedar Rest cemetery. Rev. Father Fahey of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church officiated at the service at the home and at the grave. The deceased is survived by his father, August Taconi, Sr., Bay St. Louis and two brothers, Leo Taconi of Bay St. Louis and James Taconi of Biloxi. The deceased was a fisherman and for some time had resided in Biloxi. He was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends.

TWO BAY BANKS CLOSE FOR FOURTH

Announcement is made that the Merchants Bank and Trust Company and the Hancock County Bank will close their doors Friday in observance with the national custom of banks of the United States to give a holiday to all employees on July 4.

CRITICALLY ILL

Hilburn Cuevas, four-month-old baby who lives north of Pass Christian, was taken to the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital here Wednesday morning critically ill. Little hope is entertained for his recovery.

HOSPITAL DRIVE IS PLANNED

Last year 1 is the Date Set For
The Drive For The Emergency Hospital Building Fund

A drive for funds for the building fund of the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital will be held in the Bay-Waveland area, Friday, August 1, Mrs. A. F. Fournier president of the Bay St. Louis Circle of King's Daughters, announces. At this time everyone will be asked to assist in securing sufficient funds to make a building program possible.

Last year the first donations for the building fund were secured from interested friends of the hospital and with this as a nucleus the committee hopes to secure a substantial fund during the drive August 1.

As one step in the work of the hospital building Mrs. Fournier has appointed an advisory committee composed of the following men: Bro. Peter, Emilio Cue, Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr., Leo Seal, George R. Rea, Chas. G. Moreau, Jos. O. Mauffray, W. L. Bourgeois, and C. C. McDonald. This committee is asked to meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Monday night, 8 o'clock, with the members of the hospital board.

SECOND SPEED BOAT REGATTA

Two Days Racing for Motor
Craft on July 12-13—A
Large List of Entries
Already Received

C. A. Breath, Sr., and the other gentlemen who assisted him in "pulling off" that very successful program of motor boat racing several weeks ago, announce that there will be another such regatta on Saturday and Sunday, July 12 and 13.

Already there has been some forty odd entries made in the several classes of water craft, and there is no doubt but what the coming event will eclipse anything of its kind that has yet taken place in this city if not on the Coast.

Owners of the fastest speed boats in the South have written or wired their intention to have their boats here, and don't be surprised if our city is not called upon to be host to the biggest crowd of out-of-town folks it has ever seen, its good fortune, to entertain.

PLANNING MAMMOTH CELEBRATION FOR ARMISTICE DAY

The six posts of the American Legion on the Coast are planning a mammoth celebration for Armistice Day at Biloxi and work on the event has already begun. Commander Henry Capdepon of the Bay St. Louis Legion states that the Bay Post has been invited to participate and will make its plans to do so.

YACHT CLUB PROPERTY TO BE SOLD MONDAY

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club property on South Beach Boulevard is to be sold at auction Monday afternoon about 2 o'clock, according to a legal advertisement. This property which is 150 feet on the beach and 300 feet deep, will no doubt attract a large number of bidders as a number of inquiries have been made regarding the property.

BAY WATER CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM AT HENDERSON POINT

Young Man Breaks Neck
Diving From Old Ferry
Wharf

George Ryan, aged 31 years, who had been a resident of this city only a short time, met his death Saturday evening, when he dived from the old ferry wharf at Henderson Point, his neck being broken by striking the sandy bottom in the shallow water.

He was accompanied to the Point by his brother, and a little girl friend, neither of whom had entered the water. It was some time later before news of the young man's drowning was spread and the body was not recovered until early Sunday morning. There were other bathers in swimming at the Point at the time young Ryan met with the accident, but the little girl in his party was the only one who had seen him rise to the surface of the water after the dive and go down for the second time, it was stated by relatives of the young man. The body was recovered by Albert Heitzman, Jr., who had joined the searching party after the accident had been reported, remaining out all night.

The body was brought to the Bay and after being prepared for burial was conveyed to the family home in Union Street. Monday morning the remains were shipped to Chicago, former home of the deceased, for interment, being accompanied by the boy's father and older brother.

It was only a few months ago that the father of the young man had purchased the former H. S. Saucier property in Union Street and during the brief residence of the family here, they have won the esteem and good will of a wide circle of acquaintances. The untimely and tragic death which has brought so great a sorrow to the family is shared by many friends.

CALVIN FAYARD IS FOUND DEAD MONDAY

Calvin Fayard, a well known and life-long resident of Bay St. Louis, was found dead in a parked car on Union street at an early hour Sunday morning.

When last seen by friends, several hours prior to being found, he was apparently in his usual state of health, and it is generally believed that he got into the car to take a nap and to escape the intense heat and his death was either the result of a heart attack or from the heat.

The funeral took place Tuesday and the services were conducted by Rev. Father Fahey, with interment at Cedar Rest cemetery.

The deceased was about fifty-two years of age and by is survived by four sons and four daughters and a large number of relatives, and in their loss they have the sympathy of many friends.

Return From Florida.

C. A. Breath, Jr., and Ernest Erwin have returned from a delightful week's motor trip to Florida, going via the east Coast and back the west Coast and visiting as far south as Miami. Pleasant stops were made in a number of places including Tampa and Jacksonville. They report fine roads, travelling about 2,000 miles and finding about 75 unpaved miles and this distance was travelled. The road between Mobile and Pensacola which has had a reputation of being "bad" is in fine condition all of the 40 miles stretch now being paved.

WITH EDWARDS BROS.

Grover Hill is now with the Edwards Bros. Motor Company here, having arrived over the week-end from Harpwell, Ga., where he was foreman of the Hart Motor Company, local Ford dealers.

Attends Convention.

A. G. Favre, chancery clerk, was in attendance this week at the state convention of chancery clerks of the state at Laurel. He returned Wednesday night.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARY RESIGNS AND NEW ONE APPOINTED

Miss Mathilde Lader Tenders Resignation After Two Years Service And Mrs. Marielouise Jaden is Named To Begin Work July 15, President Rea Announces.

HARRISON STATION REPORTED SOLD TO SUPERIOR OIL CO.

The Harrison Service Station on South Beach Boulevard has been leased to the Superior Oil Company according to a report here this week. R. N. Blaise, local agent for the Superior Oil Company, is in charge of the operation of the station, it is understood.

Mr. Harrison who formerly operated the Harrison Station and who is local agent for the Pan-American Petroleum Company, will continue to transact this business, it was said.

LIGHTS IN BAY OUT TWO NIGHTS

Local Electric Light Service
Is Interrupted for Tuesday
And Wednesday

Bay St. Louis has had two nights this week, Tuesday and Wednesday, during which the light service has been particularly difficult, having been interrupted for long stretches of time each evening. The Mississippi Power Company's office stated Wednesday night that the reason for the interrupted service had not been determined but that a mechanic had been at work on the lines since early this morning. The lines were followed out to determine the difficulty and better service promised for the ensuing days.

This was found an opportune time for the sale of lamps, candles and flashlights as all such places which were open were besieged for some type of light. The stores which keep open in the evenings were lighted by lamps of passing autos and intermittent flashes from the lightning which accompanied the light showers of the evenings.

BAY PANTHERS TO MEET GULFPORT TAR- PONS HERE SUNDAY

Game To Be Played At St.
Stanislaus Diamond in Early Afternoon.

By Wm. D. Hays, Jr.
The Bay St. Louis Panthers will meet the Gulfport Tarpons Sunday afternoon at St. Stanislaus diamond in a game which the Panthers will be trying hard to win. With Thriftley's success over Lyman last Sunday still fresh in their minds, the Bay players are going to make a determined effort to pull further from last place.

Director Fred Fayard announced that he has signed Eddie Blaise, former St. Stanislaus man and brother of the Panther catcher, as a general utility man to strengthen up the infield. To make place for Blaise, J. Durning, one time Jesuit College infielder, has been released. Durning was signed some time ago but never saw service with the Panthers.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. Alcide Lader of Kellar avenue announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Miss Mathilde Lader and Mr. Sidney R. Cormier, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cormier, of Carrollton avenue, New Orleans, the marriage to take place at Bay St. Louis early in August. Mr. Cormier is with Robinson's Mercantile Company at Centerville. The bride-to-be is well known here where she was reared. She has been identified with the local Chamber of Commerce for the past two years, serving from June 1928 to December of last year as assistant to the secretary and becoming secretary in December 1928, a position she now holds, her resignation effective July 15. She has been active in all types of civic work.

SAILING FOR TROPICS

Miss Mattie Belle Maxwell will chaperone a party of young ladies to the tropics. In the party will be: Misses Eleanor Hyams, Kathryn Briede and Cynthia Richardson. They will sail from New Orleans Saturday, July 12, aboard the steamer Atlantida and expect to visit Havana, Colombia, Panama, Cristobal, Porto Cabelas, Porto Cabeza and other points.

The Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce held its monthly meeting Tuesday night at the C. of C. rooms in the Masonic Temple. The resignation of Miss Mathilde Lader as secretary was accepted with regret. Miss Lader who has been with the local Chamber of Commerce since June, 1928, first as assistant to the secretary for six months and then in December 1928 becoming secretary. Her resignation is effective July 15. She stated in her resignation letter that she leaves the Chamber of Commerce as she is to be married early in August.

Wednesday the executive committee met and appointed Mrs. Marielouise Jaden as secretary to succeed Miss Lader. Mrs. Jaden is well known here where she was reared. She is the widow of Frank B. Jaden, who passed away a few months ago. She and two children reside here. Preceding her marriage she had business experience and is well qualified to act in the important capacity of secretary of the local C. of C. President Geo. R. Rea of the C. of C. announced her appointment Wednesday night. The C. of C. in session Tuesday night had authorized the executive committee to name the new secretary.

At the meeting, namely: Mrs. A. F. Fournier and Mrs. Mary J. Montgomery. Heretofore for some time Mrs. E. J. Leonard has been the only active woman member of the C. of C. and the two new members, both of whom were named to name a new secretary.

The $2.50 in gold given as an attendance prize by President Rea was won by Leo Seal who in turn presented it to the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital fund.

Due to the interruption in the electric light service of the city much of the meeting was conducted without lights.

REWARD OF $1000 IN RITTER ARREST IS STILL CLAIMED

Gulfport Officers Explain
Transfers of Illinois
Gangster

Gulfport, Miss., July 2.—In connection with today's Associated Press dispatch from Marion, Ill., announcing that the Williamson county board of supervisors had refused to pay to Gulfport, Miss., officers a reward of $1,000 offered for the arrest of Constance R. Ritter, Southern Illinois gangster, because the gangster was turned over to Franklin county officials instead of Williamson county, it was learned at the Harrison county sheriff's office today that the officers knew Williamson county was offering a big reward for Ritter, but they gave him over to the Franklin county sheriff because he was the first to obtain a requisition.

Local authorities expressed the belief that if there was a reward offered for Ritter's arrest and return to Illinois where his crimes were committed, it should be paid to Chief of Police Ryeer and Captain John Groch of New Orleans and Officer Ferguson of Gulfport who effected his arrest and the county officers who have been following a fugitive pending the arrival of Sheriff Prichard of Franklin county.

MOTOR TO MAINE

Mrs. W. W. Partridge, daughters, Miss Gertrude and Antoinette, and son, Winfield, Jr., of North Beach Boulevard, left Wednesday by motor for Maine where they will spend the summer as guests of Mrs. Partridge's uncle, Rear Admiral Kemmerling. They will return in the fall via St. Mary of the Woods college in Indiana where Miss Gertrude will matriculate. Mrs. Partridge is a graduate of this college.

To Wesson For Fourth

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Rea of Washington street went to Wesson, Miss., for the Fourth of July holidays visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wesson, and Mrs. James S. Rea, Mr. Rea's brother, James S. Rea, Jr., wife and daughter of Long View, Texas, will visit at Wesson and will return to the Coast over the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Rea for visit. James S. Rea, Jr., is cashier of the Robertson National Bank. It is interesting to note that Mr. Rea, Sr., was a banker and four of his five sons are bankers.

Rehearsing for Minstrel.

The men of Waveland are rehearsing a minstrel show which is to be presented in the near future as a benefit for the Parent-Teachers Association of Waveland. Director Tucker is holding regular rehearsals and promises a fine performance.

JAMES K. VARDAMAN.

Expressions of sincere regret and sorrow come from Mississippians in all walks of life at the passing of James K. Vardaman, who died in Birmingham, Alabama, on June 25, after an illness covering a period of several years.

At the zenith of his political career, no public man in Mississippi ever had so strong a hold upon the people of our State.

As an orator there were none to compare with him, and his eloquence as a speaker won the applause and admiration at his every appearance on the hustings.

After serving with marked ability a term as chief executive of Mississippi, he won an election to a seat in the United States Senate. There he incurred the displeasure of Woodrow Wilson because of his opposition to war measures advocated by the president and it marked the beginning of his decline in public favor, and two successive defeats to again secure re-election ended forever the career of the "Great White Chief," as he was affectionately termed by his followers.

In his last attempt to regain a seat in the senate Vardaman appeared only twice during the campaign, the illness which had seized upon his once magnificent physique being apparent, and he dropped from public notice. A native of Texas he had lived in Mississippi from early boyhood, and his death at the age of only sixty eight years, is a matter of universal regret.

LOUISIANA'S WAR ON TICKS.

And now Louisiana has declared war on the cattle tick, the legislature of that State having passed a law providing for the pest's eradication. There was considerable opposition to the enactment of the statute by a small and ignorant minority element of the people, just as was the case in our own commonwealth, and perhaps there will be a few dipping vats dynamited over there, just as they were blown up in certain sections of this State.

COAST'S INVITATION.

We learn from the Hattiesburg American that a plague of mosquitoes has been making the lives of the people of that progressive city miserable the past week. So far the Coast section has escaped a visitation of the pesky little "varmints," indeed very few of them have made their appearance this summer. In order to escape the "swamp angels," we extend an invitation to our Hub friends to migrate in this direction.

GROWING, BUT NOT FAST ENOUGH.

After tabulation of census figures the population of Mississippi is shown to be 2,005,213, an increase of 214,925 over the 1920 figure of 1,790,618. Well, we are growing, but not as fast as some of our neighboring States, we are sorry to say.

Indications are that Louisiana's legislative session will be a Long affair.—Biloxi News.

Very much so, and to the detriment and hurt of the best interests of the Pelican State.

Own your own home by all means. Then you will have something to mortgage when you want a new car.—Exchange.

Lots of folks look at it that way. They must have that new gas wagon.

The population of New Orleans made a gain of 16.5 per cent during the last ten years, the 1930 census showing an increase of 64,405, which gives the city just 451,625 bootleggers and other folks.

An explorer recently returned from the wilds of Africa, says there are races of little people, the size of normal ten-year-old children, in the interior of the dark continent. We were not aware that the members of the Mississippi legislature had migrated to that part of the world, and had shrunk physically to that extent.

Up at Hattiesburg motor boat racing has a large number of enthusiastic fans, but they only have a gravel pit lake about the size of a bandana pocket handkerchief in which to exercise their speed boats. Several of them were brought down here a few Sundays ago to compete in "Uncle Charlie's" regatta, and every one of the Hub City's entries gave good accounts of themselves.

The diplotococ, probably one of the biggest animals that ever lived, had its brains in its tail. Reconstruction by the National Museum of a skeleton of one of the giants revealed that anatomical feature, so we are informed in an Associated Press telegram from Washington. We have often wondered in what part of their anatomy the brains of some members of our legislature were located.

JUST ANOTHER STUNG.

"Governor Long states that construction of Louisiana's link with the short-cut line from the Rigolets to Pearl River will have to wait." That is quite different from what Huey said a few weeks since, when he assured and promised members of the Motor League and others that the short-route project would receive the first and earliest consideration at the hands of his Highway commission.

This pained expression comes from a Bay St. Louis Contemporary. Of course what Mr. Long says about a short-cut to the Coast now is quite different from what he said a little time ago. Mr. Long never says the same thing on Saturday that he said on Monday, if anything arises during the week to alter his interest in the subject. He cannot buy as many votes in Baton Rouge with a short-cut to the Gulf Coast as with roads out in the backwoods. The fact that this little highway job is vastly more needed than any other in Louisiana, by vastly more people, means no more to Mr. Long than his own word does—which is nothing at all.

We are astonished that a newspaper so close to Louisiana should be credulous enough to think Mr. Long's repudiation of this pledge worth a remark. In this business, however, The Young Men's Business Club of New Orleans has also learned a little about the Promising Governor. The Club called on him nearly a month ago to make good his pledge in the same respect, and to start quick. He has not yet begun.—New Orleans Item, June 27.

The Echo confesses it had some confidence in Governor Long's promise to hasten construction of Louisiana's link of the "short-cut" route to the Coast, as that promise was made voluntarily. We now realize that a politician's promises are not to be regarded if he sees fit to change his mind. That Louisiana's portion of the road will be built sooner or later, The Echo has not the least doubt. If not under Long's administration, which happily does not extend beyond 1932, the succeeding administration will lose no time in hastening its construction, as we are sure the voters of Louisiana will never make the fatal mistake of electing another misfit as Long is daily giving proof of being so. So we must be content to patiently wait until then.

POLITICS IS NOT A DIRTY GAME.

"Politics is a dirty game. I wouldn't care to mix up in it."

Intelligent, capable and honest people are inclined to make such remarks. They don't like the trickery and dishonesty that all too often characterizes public life, and for that reason leave the greatest business in the country, that of government, in the hands of middle-headed, political shysters. It is just this attitude, without doubt, that adds to the evils we can all see in present-day politics.—Brookhaven Leader.

It is due entirely to the apathy and lack of interest manifested by those same "intelligent, capable and honest people" that "politics is a dirty game." Their willingness to confine their efforts to purifying politics begins and ends in their whim about politics being "a dirty game." There isn't any hope of bettering political conditions and bringing to an end the reign of the demagogues, crooks and others of like ilk until the "intelligent, capable and honest" elements of our citizenry assert themselves in governmental affairs. The gangs of petty politicians—a sure crop everywhere and under all conditions—are responsible that "politics is a dirty game." It is their business to make it "dirty" in order to keep "intelligent, capable and honest people" out of the game.

A HARD FIGHT IN STORE.

Seven out of the eight Mississippi congressmen are sure of serving another term at Washington, as they will be re-nominated due to the fact they have no opposition. Such luck, however, is not in store for Ross A. Collins, the member from the Meridian district, as he is going to have the fight of his life in an effort to defeat R. E. Harrelson, who has thrown his hat into the ring. It is said that Mr. Harrelson is a man of high character and possesses every qualification requisite to make a worthy congressman. Mr. Collins has been a member of congress for several terms but there is no record that he has ever accomplished any beneficial legislation in behalf of his district, the State, or the country at large. The fact that he was the only Mississippi congressman who refused to go on the stump and openly support the Democratic presidential nominees in 1928, is going to militate against his chances of re-election, is of itself alone sufficient reason why he should be defeated for re-nomination, even if his failure to make a record for service to his district and the State in the ten years he has been in Washington did not so plainly show that he should be retired to the shades of private life.

ACCEPTS DARE

Bishop James Cannon, the stock gambling Methodist cleric, made the mistake of his life when he dared Congressman Tinkham to repeat in writing certain remarks which the latter had made in a speech on the floor of the house. The dare was accepted and the reverend gentleman from Virginia has not been heard from since. Just what a majority of the members of the great religious body to which Bishop Cannon belongs think of him would be interesting to the country at large.

AXE SWINGS TOO FREELY.

"To the victors belong the spoils" was the thought actuating Governor Bilbo and his hand-picked board of trustees when they made so many changes in the faculties of the University and the A. & M. College. The Echo is a firm believer in the policy pursued by Governor Bilbo and his board, but in this particular instance we think the beheading axe was swung too freely.

STATE EDITORS
And What They Say

THE THINNING LINE

The editor of the Aberdeen Examiner pays tribute to the Confederate dead in the following comment on the recent reunion: "By a mere coincidence the editor attended the closing scene of the 40th annual reunion of Confederate veterans at Biloxi last week. The heroes in gray, numbered only 1,700, as against 30,000 in former years. But the old vets 'carried on' with grim determination against the onslaught of time, just like they fought their foes in '61. The Birmingham police band gave a concert Friday night in front of our hotel, the White House, and one of the soldiers 'canned a jig' when the band played 'Dixie.' We talked to one old veteran from Tyler, Texas, another from New Mexico, from West Virginia and from the Old Dominion. Their eyes were tearful. They hoped to meet again next year at Montgomery, if not there, then in a brighter world. It was pathetic to see a lone survivor of a noted Confederate cavalry organization ride down the streets of Biloxi in their parade. Tears streamed down his cheeks as he waved the banner of that loved organization. Bitter memories arose as they went past Beauvoir, the last home of Jefferson Davis. In the course of nature it will not be possible to hold many more reunions. As one of their comrades expressed it, the time will soon come when—

"Our silent eternal camping ground, Their silent tents are spread, And glory guards with solemn round The Bivouac of the Dead."

BUILDING THEIR OWN

The Meridian Star rejoices with Jackson in the building of a real city within the state of Mississippi. Time was when a deadly spirit of jealousy existed between the two largest cities in the state, Jackson and Meridian, had happily that spirit disappeared they are now pulling together as twin cities, each co-operating in the building of the other. In a recent issue of the Star the following appears:

Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, is one of the thirteen cities of the country of 25,000 population or above, to gain above 100 per cent in population during the past decade. Only ten major cities in the United States can show a larger percentage of gain than Mississippi's capital. And nine of the ten are located south of the Mason-Dixon line.

This splendid achievement reflects credit not alone upon Jackson, but also upon all of Mississippi. Mississippi, for its many years, has been building cities in other States. Mississippians have built Memphis; in large measure Mississippians have built New Orleans; Mississippians have played a part in the development of Birmingham.

Too long, Mississippi has experienced the unenviable absurdity of "all going out and little coming in." Now it seems that Mississippi proposes to build a metropolis, all its own. Mississippi already has some 50,000 people. Its citizens prophesy 100,000 ten years from now. Judging the future by the past, Jackson with 100,000 souls seems entirely within the realm of ten-year possibility. We rejoice with Jackson in its splendid record.

Mississippians seemingly have now awakened to the need of building Mississippi. Too long we have been sacrificing raw material to upbuild other states and other sections—Shipping our lumber to the north or east and buying it back in furniture at cost plus several profits, to say nothing of freight.

Producing raw cotton often to sell at a loss to ourselves and buying back in manufactured goods at cost plus a high profit to others. It is high time for Mississippians to build the state of Mississippi. We seem to have started on the way.

SECOND IN GROWTH

The Hattiesburg American is proud of the record established by its little neighboring city of Columbia, and doesn't fail to say so, in the following words:

Census figures revealing a 70 per cent increase for Columbia in the past decade, ranking it second only to Jackson in this state for the rate of its growth, argue justifiably a cause for jubilation among Columbians and citizens of Marion county.

It gives us pleasure to note such conspicuous advancement in a South Mississippi community, and especially so, as the most cordial friendship exists between the Hub City and Columbia.

The people of Marion county and of Columbia appear to have struck a happy balance in their mutual development, the development of an agricultural prosperity for the rural sections and the expansion of Columbia's business interests receiving attention. A story of new paving and commercial expansion will most likely be matched with another pertaining to the development of trucking and the acquisition of new settlers in its rural communities.

The American congratulates the people of Columbia and Marion county, and rejoices in their increased force for the upbuilding and development of the section of Mississippi in which we are equally interested.

NEW ORLEANS

UNITED

NO TRAITORS NEED
APPLY

The over-whelming defeat administered the venerable Senator Simmons of North Carolina in the recent Democratic primary points to the rebuke in store for other prominent bolters from the party fold.

Commenting on the "Old North State's" primary the Meridian Star in a late issue says:

One by one Democratic quitters are brought to bar. Any man has a right to change his party, but no man can serve one master in one election and seek honors from another in the next.

No individual can be both a Democrat and a Republican at the self-same time. Senator Simmons left Democratic tradition for temporary Republican flesh 'n' pots. Democracy does not bestow its honors upon party traitors. Party treason warrants no reward, but punishment.

Senator Simmons is merely reaping what he has sown. He sowed to the Republican wind and he is reaping to the Democratic whirlwind.

North Carolina is the first in the Democratic South to visit vengeance upon the party "turncoat." Simmons is gone. Heflin is slated to go. Other Democratic leaders who accept party honors on one hand and lend aid and comfort to party enemies on the other, can expect no favors from the followers they betray.

Apparently the South is coming back to its own. Temporary defections in the presidential election represent merely a passing whim. We are still true at heart to the traditions of the South.

The wages of political sin is political death. Party treason brings its certain punishment. It is well. Democracy reserves its honors for those who hold true to the faith. No traitors need apply.

With only very few exceptions, every Democrat in Mississippi of any prominence stood four-square and gave the national party tickets in 1928 loyal and whole-hearted support. The traitors to the party were small-bore politicians and men and women who were swayed in their devotion of the party standard by religious bigotry. Both are known in the communities where their votes were cast and their desertion will not be forgotten for years to come—just as Senator Simmons' treachery was remembered in North Carolina. Like Banquo's ghost, their disloyalty and treachery will rise up to plague them in each succeeding campaign as surely as the sun rises and sets each day.

ORLEANS STREETS DECLARED CLEANER THAN NEW YORK'S

Association Executive Says General Conditions Are Better.

The streets of New Orleans are uniformly much cleaner than those in New York City, J. C. Stubbs, executive secretary of the Outdoor Cleanliness Association of New Orleans, said Wednesday after making a tour of inspection of the city with Carl Schneider of the department of public works.

"We keep a few of our streets in New York like Park avenue and Fifth avenue in excellent shape," said Mr. Stubbs, "but the general condition of the streets here are much better."

Mr. Stubbs also declared that after visiting the two new city incinerators, he was convinced that New Orleans has a far more efficient system of garbage disposal than New York. He praised the public swimming pools in Audubon and City Parks, saying that they are the finest he has ever seen.

Mr. Stubbs is en route to Texas on private business.—Times-Picayune.

THREE WAGNER EMPLOYMENT BILLS ARE PROGRESSING

Washington, July 2.—Senator Wagner's bills for the prevention of unemployment parted company today for the first time in their legislative careers, one going to President Hoover, another to conference and the third still awaiting action by the House.

Two of the measures were approved by that branch of Congress late yesterday. The first contemplated the acceleration of the public construction in times of business depression and the other the creation of an employment index to show when building expansion is needed.

The former was amended in committee to eliminate provisions dealing with the advance planning of construction projects and the measure went to conference with the Senate for the adjustment of this and other differences. The second bill was approved as passed by the Senate and now goes to the White House.

The elimination of the advance planning photographs was the subject of much of the debate which preceded the action of the House. Representative Laguardia, Republican and Celler, Democrat, both criticized the committee and expressed the hope they would be restored to the bill in conference.

Chairman Graham of the judiciary committee which had the bills in charge, said the paragraphs in question were unnecessary as public building projects are always planned far in advance.

The Wagner measure on which action was deferred would create a national system of employment exchange agencies with the financial aid of the government.

Biloxi, Miss., June 2.—René Bourbon, prominent Biloxi fisherman, landed his eighteenth tarpon here this morning after a 45-minute battle with a 135-pound silver beauty, which was six feet six inches long. Mr. Bourbon said there were large numbers of the tarpons in the front waters. The fish was the first tarpon landed this season.

THE ADVERTISING MERCHANT

A merchant in a small town in the west, with less than a thousand population, in a county of less than 10,000 inhabitants, began business more than twenty years ago.

He immediately engaged a page advertisement for a year in the local paper, and has continued a page advertisement each week since opening.

The merchant's business has grown year by year until it now a big business.

David Bock now, at the head of a big wholesale house in Vicksburg, began business in Port Gibson without capital. His stock was so small at the beginning that it only required a few feet of space to house it.

The first week he was in business he engaged a large space in the Reveille, and every week he was in Port Gibson he advertised some weeks using a page to give a list of the bargains his house was offering.

When he left this place to open a larger business, his firm was regarded as one of the most substantial in Port Gibson, and he had established a credit which few others enjoyed.

Consistent, persistent, and legitimate advertising, coupled with sane judgment and honesty, will make any business prosper.—Vicksburg Herald.

MISSISSIPPI FINANCES

Jackson, Miss., July 2.—Mississippi's general fund balance on July 1 was $289,264.18, a statement released today by State Treasurer Henry C. Yawn disclosed. In special or trust funds there was a balance of $1,957,997.56, making a total balance in the treasury of $2,247,261.54. In the "deficit sinking fund" which is to care for short term notes issued to cover an indebtedness brought over from the last biennium there is a total of $55,454.66. This fund is made up of collections from the new taxing schemes and is expected to be expended in the $500,000 mark when sheriffs make settlements with the state tax commission.

Ray L. Shaw and Mrs. Clara A. Soland, both of New Orleans, were married in this city about four weeks ago, but it seems their matrimonial barque has gone on the rocks, if the following from a recent issue of the Times-Picayune be true:

"Because her husband, Ray L. Shaw, employed at the Arabella street car barn, is alleged to have failed to provide her with a home as he promised to do when he took her to Hancock county, Mississippi, to be married, May 29, last, Mrs. Clara A. Soland applied to the civil district court Monday to have the marriage annulled."

"The wife says she was misled into marrying Shaw by the misrepresentations made by him when he took her for an automobile ride to Mississippi. Upon their return to New Orleans, she says, she discovered the defendant had no home and she was obliged to return to the home of her parents."

PECANS AND PEACHES DIE OF COLD INJURY

The severe cold of last winter has undoubtedly been the cause of many pecan and peach trees dying during the past few weeks, says the State Plant Board. Many complaints have reached the Plant Board and the symptoms in nearly all cases indicate that cold injury has been the trouble. The trees put on leaves and set a crop of fruit in a normal way, then in May and June the foliage began to turn yellow, the fruit dropped and the tree died.

According to the Board this type of injury is most severe on young trees, but occasionally affects older ones. It usually occurs in trees that enter the dormant condition with an abundant sap. To prevent this condition or any stimulation of the tree, no fertilizer or cultivation should usually be given in late summer. Mulching trees with straw during the winter and wrapping with sackings have helped to reduce this damage. Where trees are not completely killed the injured parts should be cut out and burned as soon as discovered in order to prevent the breeding of bark beetles which might further damage the tree. For more detailed information write the State Plant Board at A. & M. College, Miss.

POTATO GROWERS

MEET AT A. & M.

Certified sweet potato growers, representing several potato-growing counties in North Mississippi as well as the Delta, met at A. & M. College, Miss., Saturday for the public hearing called by the State Plant Board to consider changes in the sweet potato inspection and certification system. The growers expressed themselves as being unanimously in favor of retaining the present compulsory certification system instead of a voluntary system. They also voted practically unanimously for the establishment of two grades of seed potatoes and plants, one in which no disease is present, while the other grade would allow a very small amount of disease. Several talks were made by the growers urging that high standard be maintained and every thing possible be done to keep up the reputation of Mississippi seed potatoes and plants.

Professor R. W. Harned, Secretary of the Board, presided and announced to the growers that the Board would carefully consider the opinions and announce its decision within a very short time. All certified growers will be notified of the action of the board as soon as a decision is reached.

We have no doubt that dry Kansas would have had a larger dry vote in the Literary Digest's poll had it not been for the fact that so many of the sons of the Sunflower State were afflicted with "jake paralysis" that they couldn't get to the post office with their marked ballots.—N. O. Daily States.

CAMP FIRE MEETINGS POSTPONED UNTIL SUNDAY AT 3 O'CLOCK

The Big Old Time Holy Ghost and Fire Camp Meetings, which were scheduled to have begun on Tuesday night at Gulfside Recreational Center, has deferred the real opening until Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, because of an accident that befall the evangelist J. Gordon McPherson, "Black Billy Sunday," the incomparable old time militant Negro revivalist, who was to conduct the big camp meeting. A week ago he slipped on a greasy sidewalk and dislocated his right shoulder, which placed him under the care of the doctors, but it is hoped that he will be able to begin the meeting Sunday afternoon with his old time militant spirit. The prediction is that several thousand will welcome the Negro evangelist to the Gulf Coast, as special arrangements for the White people, has been announced by Bishop Robert E. Jones, under whose leadership the Gulfside Recreational Center is being successfully operated.

One of the special features of the camp meeting will be the singing of those sweet, old time soulful Negro plantation songs and camp meeting melodies. Waveland and Gulfside, promises to be the Mecca of thousands of Negro Religionists during the time to hear this one of the greatest inspirational preachers in the American platform whose living dynamic Gospel message has awakened the aspiration in thousands, many human derelicts have regained their lost grip, drunkards and opium fiends, victims of the drug habit have almost as if by magic broken the demon appetite and are useful citizens in several communities. It is the rare opportunity of a life time to hear the Negro preacher who Mr. Roark Bradford, the co-author of "Green Pastures" take from the book "O! Man Adams God Giltun" inspired him to become one of the world's greatest writer and play dramatist.

4-H CAMPS GROW FROM MERE BEGINNING TO LARGE MEDIUM

A. & M. College, Miss.—From a mere beginning ten years ago, 4-H Club camps have grown to be the largest medium whereby Mississippi boys and girls of the rural sections may go camping and have recreation mixed with wholesome recreation and instruction. This summer during July it is expected that no less than ten thousand bona fide members of the 4-H Clubs will take part in one of the many county-wide camp programs.

Starting as a major phase of the program sponsored by the Mississippi Extension Service the 4-H Club movement has expanded in recent years to include youthful members in nearly every community in the state, enrolling above 31,000 boys and girls of ages 10 to 20.

It is the opinion of state club agents, J. E. Tanner and Miss Elaine Massey, that the present tendency toward county organizations is to establish permanent camp sites. A dozen or more counties have followed the example set by Oktibbeha three years ago in this move. Adult groups, as well as the young, find the camps convenient for outings in the hot summer months and throughout the year.

The camps offer entertainment through games, stunts, swimming, story telling and group singing, in addition to the educational features providing opportunity for instruction in many subjects. The camping season comes to a close for 4-H for the summer as the climatic is reached during the state 4-H Club Congress at A. & M. College, August 4 to 9. Limited representation from each county having farm or home demonstration agents is expected to bring the enrollment for this event well above the one thousand mark.

CARELESSNESS AT R. R. CROSSINGS CONDEMNED BY DOWNS

Gambling with human life and happiness through carelessness at crossings is condemned by President L. A. Downs of the Illinois Central System, who advises to "be certain and be safe."

Summer finds more motorists on the highways than any other season of the year, according to President Downs. The railroad is doing its part to help keep them safe by enlisting its engineers, trainmen and men in a special summer campaign to avoid crossing accidents.

"The major responsibility for safety at crossings, however, rests upon the individual motorist," President Downs continues. "To bring trains to a stop at every highway crossing is plainly out of the question. On the other hand, every motorist can assure his own absolute safety at crossings by being cautious. Humanity, duty and self-interest unite in opposition to such fatal gambling as is shown in carelessness at crossings."

COAST STARS OF BAY WIN OVER GULFPORT TIGERS SUNDAY, 27 to 1

The Bay St. Louis Coast Stars again showed their superiority to neighboring Gulfport Tigers when they had a field day at Gulfport Sunday at the expense of the Gulfport Tigers, 27 to 1. Five home runs and three triples helped to swell the Star total, with Benedict to clotting two four baggers, and Casper Maurer, Benaur and P. Noto also hitting circuit drives. The extreme heat caused Schoonmaker, Favre, and Collier to divide hurling duties for the Bay.

Waveland turned back the Sanitary Bakers in a seven inning tilt, 20 to 3, with Condon and Collier alternating on the mound for Waveland and Dan Fayard catching.

PANTHERS WIN GAME FROM LYMAN LUMBER JACKS BY SCORE 8-7

Bay Team Outfits Cellar Holders—Good Playing Displayed by Whole Team

(By Wm. D. Hays, Jr.)

With the aid of a little imported talent from New Orleans, the Bay St. Louis Coast Leaguers showed the world that they had changed from Bees to Panthers when they outfit the Lyman Lumberjacks and won their first victory of the second half, 8 to 7.

In pitching, hitting and fielding the rejuvenated ex-Bees put it over the Lumberjacks. With Eddie Blaize reaching the Lyman pitching combination of Conn and Hosch for four singles out of five trips to the plate and with Collier chiming in with two singles and a double, and all the rest of the new Panthers except Leroy Bontemps getting at least one safety, Bay St. Louis outfit the cellar-holders 15 to 8.

Young Frank Thriffley, who got his throwing education as a member of the near-champion White Sox American League team of New Orleans, kept the Lyman hits well scattered and fanned twelve of them, as compared to the two each that Hosch and Conn struck out. The Bay defense was spoiled by five errors, but here as elsewhere they did better than Lyman, who had 8 mistakes chalked against them.

Lyman started the game with two runs in the first inning, but Bay St. Louis came back in the second to make it 3-2. Two more runs in the third and three in the fourth made the score 8 to 2 in favor of the locals.

The Lumberjacks pushed across another score in the sixth frame, but did not threaten the Bay's lead until the eighth inning, when they rallied to score four runs and come within a point of the Panther lead. Bay St. Louis added a run to their total in their half of the inning, and holding Lyman scoreless in the ninth, won the game with a two-run margin.

RAMBLERS DEFEAT AMERICAN BAKERS

Game Played at Highway Park in New Orleans Last Sunday.

On June 28, the Bay St. Louis Ramblers journeyed over to New Orleans to play the American Bakers of that city and defeated them by a score of 29 to 4. The wonderful pitching of Constant Higgins, kept the Bakers to a 17 to 0 score in the third inning when he was relieved and H. Carver, S. Seymour and J. V. Bontemps took his place. The Ramblers' star, Eddie Blaize got three triples at three time at bat and J. V. Bontemps a Coast Star also batted fine.

The excellent playing of the team held the Bakers down. The Ramblers appreciate the fine time the Bakers gave them and wish to thank Mr. Marks Luc and Mr. Mitchell Luc for the splendid time. The Ramblers wish to get in touch with Manuel Maurigi for another game in the near future. The Ramblers were trying to get a game with the Bay Panthers but Mr. Fayard said the Ramblers were too strong for them. The line-up for the Bakers was as follows: C. Schneider, M. Luc, F. Toga, F. Luc, R. Birch, R. McKnight, Mitchell Luc, F. Bordon and J. Theedect.

The Rambler line-up was: S. Seuzneau, C. Hietzman, E. Blaize, R. Heitzman, L. Luc, J. V. Bontemps, A. Villias, H. Carver and C. Higgins.

Score by innings:

Bakers 0 0 0 0 0 2 2—4

Ramblers 0 5 4 3 2 4 7—29

WATER SENT TO FILL HOUSEHOLD CISTERNS

New Orleans, July 1.—Dwellers in the area outside of New Orleans who depend on rainfall collected in cisterns for household and drinking water are in midst of a famine due to a month's drought.

For a time peddlers sold jugs of water for as high as twenty-five cents, but lately the New Orleans division of public works sent out the large street sprinklers in the outlying area to fill the cisterns.

Normally the cisterns are overflowing as the heaviest annual rainfall of any spot in the country. Vegetation is showing the effects of the dry weather but the weather bureau predicts no immediate relief.

Announces Motorist Law

Jackson, Miss., July 1.—Under the new reciprocal automobile license law, motorists from other states may remain in Mississippi three weeks without taking out a license, it was explained by Carl C. White, state auditor. If the motorist remains longer than this period, but desires not to become permanently located, a 60-day extension may be secured upon payment of $1 to the sheriff. Under the reciprocal truck law, truck owners of neighboring states are permitted to make as many as four trips a month, remaining not to exceed four days each trip, without buying a Mississippi license.

Mississippi Privilege Tax Law Is Attacked

Jackson, Miss., July 1.—Validity of the entire Mississippi privilege tax law of 1930 is threatened by a restraining order of United States District Judge Edwin R. Holmes issued today to C. Bramlette, of Woodville, counsel for the Interstate Natural Gas Company.

The gas company suit, brought against the State Tax Commission and Attorney General George T. Mitchell contends that the section of the new privilege tax law which taxes pipe line is unconstitutional and is not law "in truth and fact."

MURPHREE IN RACE FOR LIEUT. GOV. SEEKS ADAM'S PLACE

Jackson, Miss., July 1.—Announcement of former Governor Dennis Murphree as a candidate for lieutenant-governor in the 1931 Democratic primary opened the list of candidates for that office.

Although this announcement was made late yesterday, Lieutenant Governor Bidwell Adam, in Jackson on business, maintained that the people did not want to hear about politics now and declined to state if he would seek reelection.

"What the people are more interested in now is rain—not politics," said the lieutenant governor who indicated strongly that at a later date he would announce for reelection.

The announcement of Mr. Murphree came as a surprise in state political circles as he had been mentioned as a probable candidate for governor. He served as lieutenant-governor under the late Governor Henry Whitfield upon whose death he was elevated to the governor's office.

CONVICTS TO MAKE MERRY ON THE FOURTH

Parchman, Miss., June 28.—Plans have been completed for a Fourth of July celebration to be held at the State penitentiary farm camps at Parchman, said J. W. Williamson, superintendent. Several thousand convicts will get a vacation from their prison duties for one and one-half days. Sergeants of various camps were informed today that there would be a half holiday on the third in addition to the Fourth of July celebration.

Thousands of pounds of fruits, vegetables, and 25 or 30 crates of lemons for lemonade will go into a Fourth of July prison feast, on which work will begin Monday. Each camp will be given a barbecue at conclusion of baseball games.

Be Certain and Be Safe

Summer finds more motorists on the highways than any other season of the year. In summer, therefore, there is an increased need for attention in the avoidance of crossing accidents.

Our railroad is sensitive to its share of responsibility for safety at crossings. A campaign to avoid crossing accidents is under way the year round. In addition, we are conducted this year, as in previous years, a special summer safety campaign. Our engineers, trainmen and yardmen are pledged to use every effort to avoid crossing accidents.

The major responsibility for safety at crossings, however, rests upon the individual motorist. That is common sense. To bring trains to a stop at every highway crossing is plainly out of the question. The efficient accommodation of the nation's travel and commerce will not permit that. On the other hand, every motorist can assure his own absolute safety at crossings by being cautious. Such caution requires at the most only a few seconds' delay, and motorists owe it to themselves and their families, to the community and to good citizenship to make this short investment of time in the interest of safety.

Human life and happiness are too precious to be thrown away by carelessness at crossings. Humanity, duty and self-interest unite in opposition to such fatal gambling. Be certain and be safe!

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

PUBLISHERS TAKE UP POSTAL RATE TANGLE AT PARLEY

President of Southern Association has Message Of Opinion.

Asheville, N. C., June 30.—Postal rate problems and their relation to the newspaper publishing industry occupied the attention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association today at the opening session of the association.

The question came up first in the annual address of the president, J. S. Parks, of North Smith, Ark., who said data collected by the postoffice department indicated rates of second-class mail matter, which includes newspapers, should not be increased.

He had a message of optimism for the 200 newspapermen present with the statement that "My observations at the moment are that all squalls seem to have been dissipated and that smooth sailing from now on can be expected."

Frederic A. Tilton, third assistant postmaster-general, presented arguments to support an informal proposal made some months ago by Postmaster-General Walter Brown that rates on first-class mail matter be increased in order to reduce the yearly postal deficit.

A review of the progress made by the Lee Memorial School of Journalism of Washington and Lee university during the five years of its existence was presented to the convention by Major John S. Cohen, president and editor of the Atlanta Journal, and chairman of the association's school committee.

Major Cohen pointed out that the work of the Lee School has been given professional rating by the national organization. The school, he said, has "the most completely equipped collegiate journalism library in the South, and a well equipped printing laboratory operated on a sound business basis and publishing a student newspaper."

Major Cohen also paid tribute to Roscoe B. Elard, who directed the school work from its beginning until this spring, when he resigned to take a similar position at the University of Missouri.

GOV. BILBO'S OFFICE OPENS ON MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST

Governor Will Have Headquarters at Gulfport for Two Months.

Gulfport, Miss., June 30.—Although Governor Theodore G. Bilbo is not expected here until Wednesday night, his suite of offices in the hotel Markham that will be used during July and August as executive offices, was opened today by his private secretary, Mrs. Lula Wimberly.

Following a precedent established several years ago by former Governor Lee M. Russell, Gov. Bilbo will conduct the affairs of state from offices in Gulfport during the summer months. Work of remodeling the gubernatorial offices in the state capitol building in Jackson was one of the reasons given for changing the seat of government for the two-month period.

Among important events scheduled for the week at the governor's office is the meeting Saturday, July 5, of the board of trustees of the universities and colleges when radical changes in the faculties of the A. & M. College and M. S. C. W. are expected.

A number of the present faculty members are expected to be let out of service, be demoted and a number of new instructors chosen to take places in the faculties.

No pardon seekers or others seeking favors at the hands of the chief executive have as yet made their appearance here, but are expected to begin arriving by the time the governor reaches his new offices on Thursday morning.

The suite of offices selected by the governor on the Mississippi coast is located on the eighth floor of the hotel almost in the heart of the Gulfport business district near the water's edge of Mississippi sound.

RADIO SIGNAL USES EIGHTH OF SECOND TO CIRCLE WORLD

Directional Antenna Carries Voice While Film Checks Speed

Schenectady, N. Y., June 30.—Radio signals made a complete circuit around the world today in one-eighth of a second.

For approximately 30 minutes, starting at 7:05 a. m., Eastern Standard time, a talk by C. D. Wagoner of the General Electric Company staff here was sent around the earth by a series of radio relays. The received signals, after traveling approximately 25,000 miles through the air, were rebroadcast by station WGY.

The talk traveled from west to east. Mr. Wagoner spoke into a microphone at the General Electric experimental station W2XAD, 19.58 meters, and by means of a directional antenna the words were carried to PHI, the Eindhoven, Holland, station of Phillips Radio, which rebroadcast them on a wavelength of 16.88 meters to Bandung, Java, where they were picked up and relayed by station PLW, 36.1 meters, to Sydney, Australia. At Sydney, station 2ME, 28.5 meters, relayed the signals across the Pacific ocean and the North American continent to Schenectady.

During the test, which is believed to be the first of its kind, radio engineers made a film record by means of an instrument known as the oscillograph of the time of transmission as one-eighth of a second.

Mississippi thoroughly appreciates the Harrison services both in behalf of his state and as a bulwark of strength to his party in national legislation. His advancement as ranking Democrat on the finance committee and the probability of his elevation to head the entire committee will be excellent to a veritable host of Mississippians and to Democrats in whatever state they may be.

BILL AIMED AS BLOW AT MACHINE GUNS

Washington, June 30.—Another proposal aimed at preventing gangsters from procuring machine guns was made Saturday in a bill introduced by Representative Browne, Republican, Wisconsin.

The measure would prohibit transportation of weapons in interstate commerce except for military purposes. It would impose a penalty of $10,000 fine or five years imprisonment for violation.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

A LEGISLATIVE MARATHON

Currency is given to the threat that another special session of the legislature is to be inflicted upon Mississippi.

This wanton waste of the people's money has about reached the stage of public indignation. If any glory could come to Mississippi through qualifying for a legislative endurance contest the evil even that again follows us might be justified, but the painful advertising that Mississippi has had through several sessions has cost the state uncounted millions. It will take many constructive sessions and administrations on their good behavior before Mississippi shall have gained the respect of the outside world.

We have held our peace in this publication with remarkable fortitude through all that has transpired in recent months in Jackson.

Impediment proceedings naturally play their part in the political misadventure of things, but it is a sad carry in decent statesmanship when men can crack jokes about public theft and scandal in places of high trust.

There could be no more of this hideous show at Jackson unless those on whom responsibility for constructive legislation rests can agree in advance to pass such measures as are now in controversy.

Mississippi will withstand much more of this political publicity, provided she expects to make herself inviting to the world as a commonwealth of opportunities.—The Mississippi Guide.

PAT GOES UP.

When the voters of North Carolina retired Senator Furnifold Simmons, they advanced Mississippi's senior senator, Pat Harrison, to a position of greater importance in the higher house of the Senate. Simmons gone, Mr. Harrison becomes No. 1 Democrat on the most important senatorial committee, finance.

Should the country react to the new tariff bill as it is expected, and reverse the Republican majority in the Senate, the Senatorial majority of strength; Senator Harrison would step to the head of the committee.

Mississippi thoroughly appreciates the Harrison services both in behalf of his state and as a bulwark of strength to his party in national legislation. His advancement as ranking Democrat on the finance committee and the probability of his elevation to head the entire committee will be excellent to a veritable host of Mississippians and to Democrats in whatever state they may be.

YOUR TOWN AND YOU.

Your town boosts you. Why not do as well by the town as it does by you? No citizen is so powerful, none so humble, but what the town is an aid to him in some way or other.

The food that he eats, the clothes he wears, the recreation and amusement that he enjoys, all originate in the town, because the money with which they are procured is made there.

When a fellow boosts his own town he does not stop there. He is performing an act that improves his own conditions, for every good word and every good deed has its elevating influence.

A few people are always home town boosters. They accomplish much in the way of community betterment, and this improves the condition of not only themselves, but also of those who do no boosting at all.

If every citizen would constitute himself a home town booster the result collectively would be many times as great, and opportunities for self improvement would be more numerous.

Think it over in your odd moments. Then get into the boost wagon and hit the pace.—Jackson Clarion Ledger.

Should any alien who violates the laws of our country and if convicted be allowed to suffer no greater penalty than a fine and a term of imprisonment? The Echo is prompted to this line of thought from observing the predominance of foreigners' names appearing in the lists of liquor law violators printed in the papers. If the truth were known a majority of those apprehended are

BAN ON VOLSTEAD PADLOCKS URGED TO AID LANDOWNERS

Business Depression Blamed On Risk Of Losing Realty Income.

Washington, June 29.—Immediate consideration of this bill to prevent padlocking under the Volstead Act was requested of the House judiciary committee Saturday by Representative McLeod, Republican, Michigan.

McLeod urged that his bill be enacted "to restore the confidence of property owners in order to prevent further business depression and stagnation of the real estate business throughout the country."

"When a man can be penalized," McLeod said, "by taking away his source of income from his property which he lawfully purchases and owns, simply because one particular kind of illegal act may be performed upon his property, of which he, the owner, may or may not have knowledge, then the risks of owning real estate have become too great to induce a law abiding man to undertake such ownerships."

TEACHERS' COLLEGE TO CONFER DEGREES

Lieut. Governor Adam Will Deliver Address at Exercises

Hattiesburg, Miss., June 29.—Sixty-six men and women will receive the bachelor of science degree from the State Teachers' College at the August convocations, which will be held August 27.

Every section of Mississippi is represented in the class, which includes J. M. Tubb, Monroe county representative in the lower house of the Mississippi Legislature, and Sam B. Crawford, a member of the Mississippi Textbook Commission.

Lieutenant Governor Bidwell Adam of Mississippi has accepted the invitation of the class to deliver the address for the graduating exercises.

SO THEY GET MONEY FOR MELONS EATEN BACK IN YEAR 1898

Tampa, Fla., June 29.—Eating watermelons is 1898 and paying for them in 1930 may be the special prerogative of the United States government, but by reason of that fact Warren C. West, negro janitor of the federal building here, stands to collect $75 he never would have seen if the bill had been paid on time.

During the Spanish-American war, Warren's father raised fine watermelons. Uncle Sam's soldiers parroted freely of the melons, but neglected at times to pay for them.

Recently government mathematicians, taking into consideration the economic changes of the past 32 years, valued the "borrowed" watermelons at $150. Yesterday the Senate upheld their judgment by authorizing payment of that amount to surviving members of the West family. The House had passed the measure previously and it remains for President Hoover to give his sanction to the watermelon bill.

If he signs it, Warren will get half of the money and his brother, Isaiah, the other half.

aliens, but we have yet to note a single instance where such violators of the law have been deported. We believe if the federal courts would order the deportation of every alien convicted it would go a long way toward solving the problem. Surely it is with the power of the court to take such action.

ORLEANS-ATLANTA AIRWAY LIGHTING SURVEY IS NEAR

Mail Route Will Be Shortened to Nearly Straight Line

Washington, June 29.—Complying with the request of Senator Ransdell and Representative Spearling for a completely lighted air mail route between New Orleans and Atlanta, officials of the airways division of the commerce department announced today that surveys for the installation of beacon towers will be started by the end of August.

The route will be shortened so as to provide a nearly straight course between New Orleans and Atlanta by the way of Mobile and Montgomery.

In addition to decreasing the flying time to Atlanta by an hour, the new route when completely lighted, will make it possible for the mail planes to leave New Orleans as late as 3 p. m., since the planes will be able to fly after dark.

The present route goes due west from Atlanta to Birmingham, and then dips abruptly to Mobile. The route from Atlanta to Birmingham, which is lighted at present, will be continued by the way of Shreveport, Dallas and Fort Worth. As the Birmingham-Mobile segment will be discontinued, airway officials have postponed lighting of the New Orleans-Atlanta line until the new route was approved. Eventually, it is planned to start night air mail service between New Orleans and the East.

New funds for airway lighting will become available on July 1. It is planned, however, to complete the surveys on the projected southern transcontinental airway before any work is done on the new route between New Orleans and Atlanta.

Most of the mapping for the installation of beacons has been completed on the transcontinental line except for the section between Los Angeles and Fort Worth. It is estimated that this work will require about two months.

Senator Ransdell has been urging commerce department officials for several months to improve the airway between New Orleans and Atlanta. He was informed today that surveys for the installation of lighting equipment will require somewhat longer time than was expected because of the existence of several bad flying spots along the new route.

Postal officials have estimated that the amount of air mail originating in New Orleans will be nearly doubled by the improved service.

Back Quit Hurting

"I was in a very weak condition from a serious sickness," writes Mrs. I. Leonard, 571 Joseph St., New Orleans, La. "I was so weak, I wanted to sleep all the time. I did not have strength to do anything. My back ached nearly all the time. I was just in misery. My mother told me I must arouse myself from the sleepiness, and take something to help get my strength back. She had taken Cardui and had been helped, so I decided to take Cardui, too. After my first bottle, I could see that it was helping me. I took four bottles at this time. My strength came back and I gained weight. Pretty soon, I was my old self again. My back quit hurting, and I haven't had any more trouble since I took Cardui."

THE VALUE OF SOUND DESIGN

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy

THE good performance of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The design of the compression chamber is an important factor in the efficiency of the Ford engine. It is built to allow free passage of gases through the valves and to thoroughly mix the fuel by producing turbulence within the cylinders during compression. The spark thus flashes quickly through the whole fuel charge, resulting in quieter and more effective engine performance. Other factors are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves of larger diameter, statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft

PARTY TUESDAY

The benefit card party given Tuesday night at the Hotel Weston for the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital maintenance fund proved a success. Six tables of players enjoyed pleasant games and handsome prizes were awarded at each table. The ladies in charge of the party announce that this past month the greater portion of the work of the hospital has been charity and that for this reason the benefit was necessary to defray expenses and appeal to the public to support the benefits which are given from time to time.

HOUSE PARTY IN GULFPORT.

Miss Elba Marshall of Bay St. Louis and cousin, Miss Elba Anne Denton of Springfield, Mo., are guests from Monday of Thursday of their cousins, Misses Mary Lillian and Olive Todd of Gulfport. They were complimented Tuesday night with a bridge party and Wednesday night with a beach party.

ENTERTAINS AT SERIES OF THREE BRIDGE PARTIES.

Mrs. Donald Marshall of Boardman avenue has entertained at two bridge parties and a third of a series will be given in the near future.

Four tables of players enjoyed the Monday afternoon of Thursday at the Marshall home. After the bridge party menu was served.

Mrs. Marshall, complimented her sister, Mrs. C. Denton of Springfield, Mo., Tuesday afternoon of last week at four tables of bridge, followed by a party refreshments. Mrs. Denton was the fortunate winner of high score prize and Mrs. Geo. E. Pitcher of second prize.

MISS REA IN EUROPE.

Miss Decima Rea of Wesson, who is well-known here where she visits her mother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Rea, who sailed for Europe last week, landed there Wednesday. She expects to be away for the rest of the summer touring various parts of Europe.

HERE FROM MISSOURI.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Denton, sons, Charles and Harry, and daughters, Misses Elba Anne and Patsy of Springfield, Mo., are at the Bay for a six weeks' stay and have taken one of Mrs. O'Leary's cottages on Falcit street for this time. Mrs. Denton is the daughter of Mrs. Elba Bouslog and sister of Mrs. Donald Marshall of Bay St. Louis.

SOME OF THE THINGS IN MY GARDEN.

Squash, kershaws, snapbeans and cucumbers.
Corn and potatoes, strawberries and onions.
Turnips and beets, and carrots all three.
A pawpaw bush and an old pear tree.
There's a shrubby border with flowers sweet.
And grass like a carpet under your feet.
I have music the sweetest ever heard,
A whip-will, a partridge and a mocking bird.
There are rows of vegetables, kind of straight.
And a Japanese rose on a tumbledown gate.
There are no bugs but plenty of bees.
And myriads of birds in the great oak trees.
There are roses and poppies and gladioli.
And larkspurs tall and as blue as the sky.
You may boast of your travel beyond the sea.
But my home and garden are the places for me.
—ARCHIBALD BOGGS

FIVE MEN ROB NEW ORLEANS BANK

New Orleans, July 3.—Five bandits, four of them masked, today held up the Broadmoor Branch of the New Orleans Bank and Trust Company and escaped with an undetermined amount of money. While four of the bandits entered the bank, the fifth bandit sat in an automobile with a pillow slip over his head and held back people with a shotgun and joked with employees of a filling station across the street. The bandits lined the bank employees against the wall and then forced them to lie down on the floor.

Boards To Meet Monday

The city commissioners of Bay St. Louis will meet Monday morning for the first Monday of the month business meeting. The board of supervisors of Hancock county will convene Monday morning for the regular July meeting.

FARMERS SUSTAIN HEAVY LOSS FROM CONTINUED DROUTH

Farmers from all portions of the county have sustained a heavy loss in their crops, due to the protracted drouth, coupled with the extreme heat during the past two weeks. The rains which have fallen since Tuesday have not been general, there being a heavy down pour in some sections of the county while in others not a drop has fallen. The corn crop has probably been the most damaged, as it is the most important of all crops planted, while every variety of garden truck and vegetables have also suffered to a great extent.

ALLEGED ASSAILANT OF REPORTER APPEALS

Jackson, Miss., July 2.—LaFayette Williams, auto rental agency employee, today appealed a $100 city court fine for alleged assault on a newspaper reporter.

Jack Dale, police reporter of the Clarion Ledger, had Williams brought to court yesterday for the attack which Dale told Judge J. H. Penix occurred in the agency office where Williams worked after the latter had called him on the pretense of giving him a news story.

Dale said the beating took place over the use of Williams' name in a court column of the paper which was the result of the man's arrest on a minor charge.

Dale said that Williams struck him without notice and that he was knocked groggy by the first blow. Dale said that two other men were in the office at the time.

SEVENTEEN COUNTIES ARE TICK-FREE

Jackson, July 2.—Though no formal liberation marked the occasion, yesterday was an auspicious date for south Mississippi, where 17 counties—the last in the state—officially released from federal fever tick quarantine that for years has prevented free movement of cattle in that area. In the wake of the release is expected to come a rising and cattle raising activity that will place the southern region of the state in line with progressive north Mississippi sections, that for some time have been free of the cattle tick.
